Brand Positioning

S5ive must position itself as the premier social media sports marketing company. We will achieve this through core conveyances such as: victory, power, inspiration, confidence, humility, gracefulness, elegance, and like emotions.

By doing so, we will achieve psychological consistency with our target market and achieve a larger-than-life feel. Everyone wants to be a part of something bigger than themselves.

Phrases that will indicate our success at this include:

1. "If you want to be famous, you need to talk to Starting 5."
2. "If you want deals, you need to hire Starting 5."
3. "They're expensive, but they're worth every penny."

Marketing Strategy

Disclaimer: To be an industry-leading social media marketing company, we must lead from the front in every way possible. As such, most of our brand awareness should be a direct result of our social media presence, following word-of-mouth.

Traditional Marketing Tools

1. Cold Email
2. Cold Contact
3. Merchandise
    a. To be gifted quarterly to clients and referral partners

See Operations section for fulfilment breakdowns

Athlete packages are designed to maximize client generation. Lower tiers attract more clients as near-loss leaders, allowing for greater client retention and upsell potential.

Referral partner overrides are not included in this, but they will probably fall around a standard 5%. When we start hiring salespeople, we will raise these prices to maintain a minimum gross profit of 20% to allow for an operating expense buffer.

High School Sponsor Packages

Tier	Offer	Price	COGS
Regular Season Sponsor	1 Reg. Season Game	$2000	$1600 | 20% GP
Postseason Sponsor	1 Postseason Game	$3000	$1600 | 45% GP
Touchdown Sponsor	Games 1-5	$9000	$8000 | 11% GP
District Sponsor	Games 6-10	$9000	$8000 | 11% GP
Playoff Sponsor	Rounds 1-5	$13500	$8000 | 59% GP
State Champ Sponsor	State Championship	$5000	$1600 | 32% GP

Included in these packages are:

1. Logo and business name at beginning or end of video
2. Collaboration with the Aledo Bearcat Football and S5ive Productions accounts on Instagram and Facebook
3. Business name is the first line of text in the caption (e.g., the H5 Sports Barn Week 2 Sizzle)
4. Right to redistribute content
5. Guaranteed sideline pass with possibility of +1

Although the Touchdown and District packages have low margins, if a Playoff Sponsor is secured, a total gross profit of $10,900 will be the result, resulting in a 30% gross profit margin. These prices should be raised annually to maintain a 60% gross profit margin.

Collective Packages

At face value, the most needle-moving sales activity would be partnering with entire college teams. However, I believe that doing so would only result in the university and/or coaches trying to control athlete narratives, which goes directly against our mission.

Sales

As a platform that aims to give athletes a voice and a personal brand, we need a buffer between us and the university: the collectives. While collectives are often influenced by the university, they are still largely independent organizations that primarily exist to support the players, resulting in the perfect medium.

Tier	Offer	Price
Starting 5 Package	5-10 athletes	10% off athlete packages aggregate*
Defense Package	Up to 16 defensive starters	12% off athlete packages aggregate*
Offense Package	Up to 16 offensive starters	12% off athlete packages aggregate*
Starters Package	Up to 35 starters	15% off athlete packages aggregate*
Full Team Package	Personal branding for each athlete	18% off athlete packages aggregate*

Aggregate*: For example, a collective signs on for a Defense Package. They would choose which athlete package they want for each athlete, add up the total, and then deduct 12% from that total. So, if a team wanted to do 3 of each athlete package for 15 total athletes, the subtotal would be:

(3 x 499) + (3 x 999) + (3 x 1999) + (3 x 3999) + (3 x 5999) = $31,488

And the example total would be $31,488*.88 = $27,709.44

COGS would follow the same formula:

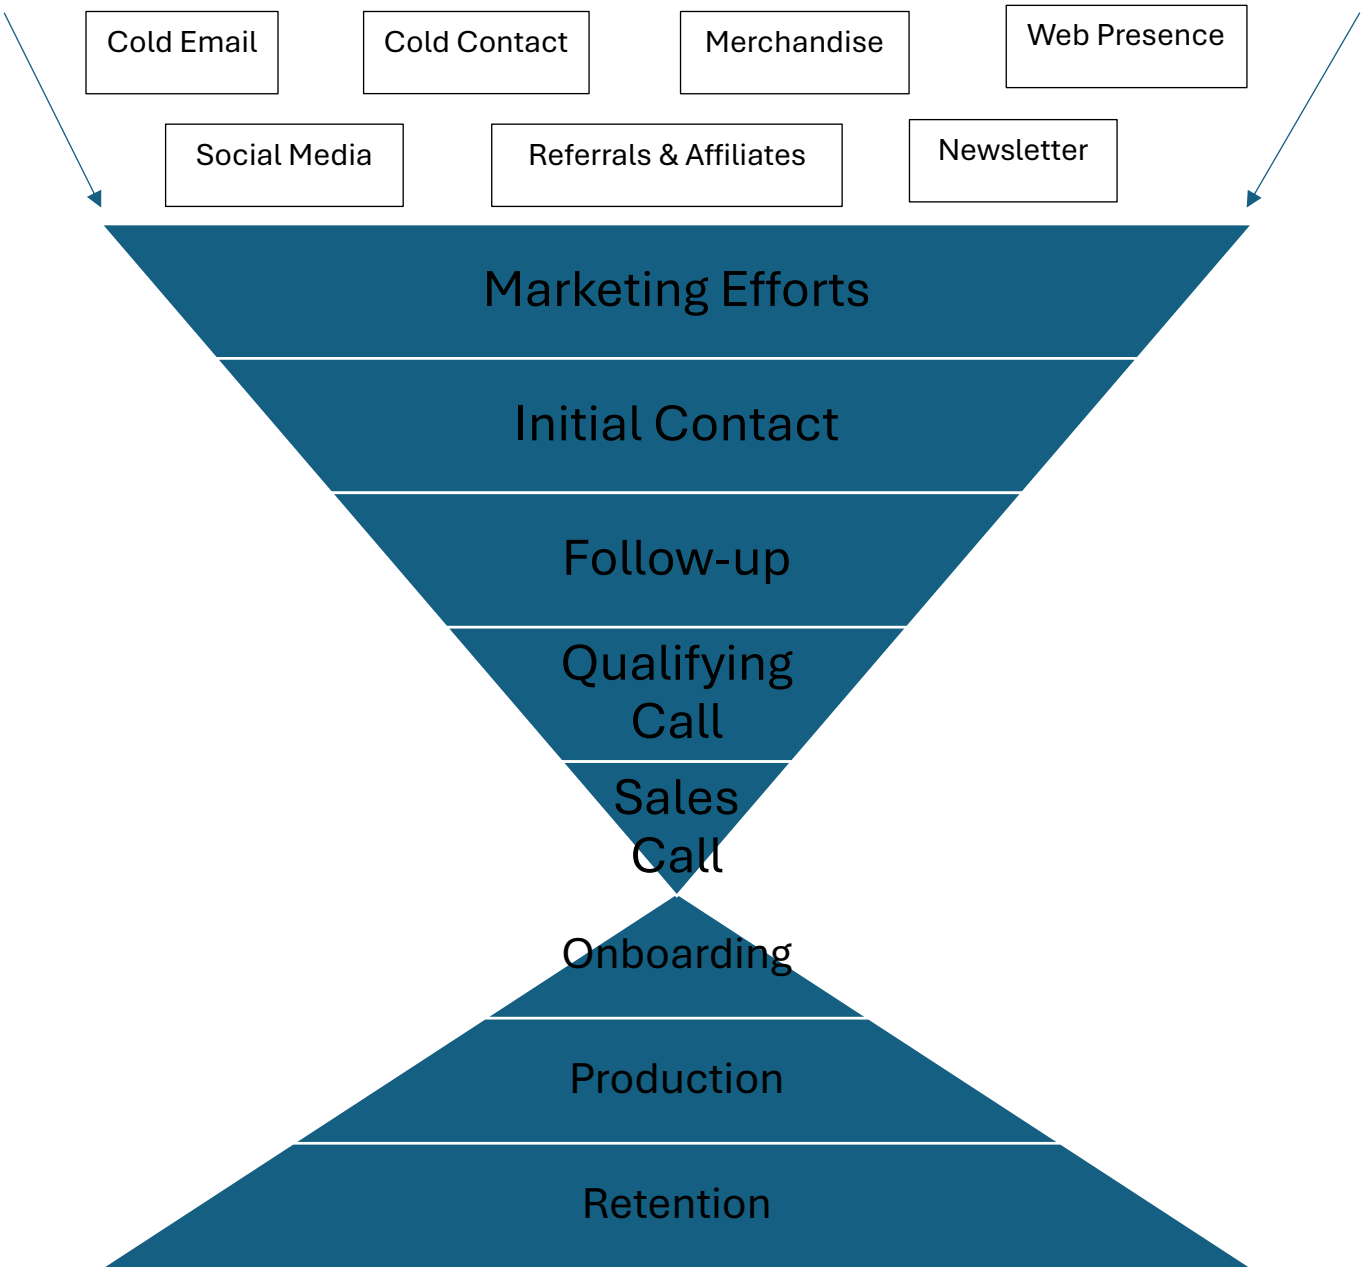
.80(3 x 499) + .70(3 x 999) + .60(3 x 1999) + .45(3 x 3999) + .35(3 x 5999) = $18,591.30

Example aggregate gross profit: $9,118.14 or 32% margin

Sales

This can potentially lead to collectives splitting deals with athletes. Collectives can offer to pay for all athletes to have basic coverage, and each athlete can then decide if they want to upgrade.

Sales Funnel



Sales

Referral Partnerships & Affiliate Programs

Everyone who is connected to the business should be a salesperson, and salespeople should be able to bring in new clients easily. This will revolve around incentivized referral partnerships and a turnkey affiliate program.

Referral Partnerships

    b. Financial service providers
    c. Legal service providers

    b. Fan connection platforms (E.g., Passes)
4. Collectives
5. Individuals

    b. Referral agrees to sit-down and converts into client
    c. Referrals of referral obtained
    d. Referrer account credited

Affiliate Program

As described in E-Myth, every employee of the business is a salesperson. Every team member, no matter their department, should be required to complete basic sales training as a part of their onboarding process. Sales training will constitute a large chunk of employee continuing education.

Employee Affiliates will have the same commission structure as our salespeople, and they can qualify for the same bonuses. This will further help each team member to achieve their personal, professional, and financial goals, and with the right promotion, will create a culture of achievement.

Operations

Scaling Strategy

Problem: Video editing is a rapidly changing field with few best practices.
Solution: Develop a standardized training course to maintain creative control and build an in-house video editing team.

Without a doubt, this business will quickly become more of a recruiting and training business than it is a media company, specifically regarding video editors.

When outsourcing videographers, a thorough portfolio vetting should give us a good idea of their shooting skills. A formal training process most likely isn't necessary, as a simple list of required shots with equipment standards is generally enough for seasoned videographers (see org chart, p. 18).

Video editing, however, has significantly more variables. Virtually all video editors have different softwares, editing styles, and/or processes, making a standardized training program a challenging, but rewarding task.

To make this solution operational, we must:

1. Standardize editing softwares (see tech stack, next page)
2. Streamline handoff from videographer to editor
    a. Storyboarding
    b. Clip/file organization
3. Standardize video editing process
    a. Sound design standards and process
    b. Lighting and color grading standards and processes
    c. Transitions
    d. Graphics, overlays, fonts, etc.
    e. Export settings

Operations

Once internally operationalized, we can go so far as to roll out a revenue-generating B2C course and grant certifications and creating an online community of video editors. Doing so will make us not only an industry leader in sports media marketing but will also give us our pick of the litter of editors.

Expansion Strategy
